MARCH 25.

Miss Esther Saathoff, daughter of Supt. and Mrs. W. N. Saathoff of Hondo, has completed a four-year course at Southwestern University and will receive her degree in June.

She is majoring in voice. She is the first one of Southwestern who was granted this privilege. She also studied piano and public school music. Miss Saathoff gave her senior recital in voice on March 25 at Southwestern University.

Some miscreant broke one of the plate glass windows in the front of the Leinweber store building some time Sunday night and stole several shirts and other articles which he could reach and which were being used as window display. The chief loss was the destruction of the glass. No clue to the parties has been discovered.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Decker had as their guests for the Easter holidays their daughter, Miss Adele, of Our Lady of the Lake College and two of her classmates, Misses Marcella Ducrest and Alice May Kauffman, both of Louisiana.

BAPTIST NEWS NOTES.

Regular services will be held at the Baptist church Sunday, beginning with the Bible school at 10 o'clock. We return to the Book of Genesis where we will have opportunity to appreciate the power and goodness of God, as Creator of all things. This history, as given through Moses, gives us an account of mankind, some three thousand years prior to the beginning of secular accounts. It is a good time for very many, who are now not attending these schools, to begin. There is little excuse, these days for ignorance of the wonderful Word of God. Preaching, as usual, at 11 o'clock by the Pastor. At the morning hour we will have a matter of interest to the entire congregation to attend to. It is hoped we may have a large attendance, for if we are to be happy, and succeed at all, we must walk together, in fellowship and in good works.

Our mid-week devotional meetings have been resumed. These are of personal and vital interest to all. Those who were immediately engaged in presenting the Cantata on Sunday night last, are highly gratified by the cordial reception given them by the community, and are pleased by the many kind words spoken, concerning the impressiveness of the message in song.

The preaching services at night will begin at 8 o'clock. The Pastor urges all the membership to give prayerful consideration to the matter of their responsibility for the evening service. Do you not owe your pastor something; also the Community, and most of all do you not owe God, our Savior something. On Wednesday night, April 6, a concert will be given at the Methodist church by the State College quartette of San Marcos, Texas. This is said to be one of the most remarkable organizations of American concert life among amateurs. The four young men composing the quartette are all students of the State College, using this most unusual plan to earn their expenses through college. They have sung in most of the cities and towns of Texas, as well as in adjacent States. San Antonio has welcomed them some fifteen times this season. The entire community, who are lovers of good music, will welcome these young men to Hondo. Remember the place and date. Methodist church, April 6. Be sure to come.

LOAN COMMITTEE MAKING PROGRESS.

The Medina Farmers' Seed Loan Committee so far has received 49 applications from Medina County Farmers for Crop Production Loans aggregating $9,039.00 an average of slightly over $180.00 per loan. The largest loan being $400.00 and the smallest, so far, $35.00.

Crops pledged to secure these loans are: 6122 acres corn, oats and feed stuffs, 226 acres cotton, 480 acres broom corn and 123 acres truck crops.

Of the loans submitted to the head office at Dalals the Farmer's Seed Loan office has approved 10 applications for an aggregate of $1,485.00 for which checks have been mailed to the applicants.

Because the County Committees over Texas were not familiar with the exact requirements in the matter of filling out the various documents in connection with each individual application, a great deal of time was lost at first on account of the necessity of sending papers back and forth for correction, which accounts for the small amount of approved applications so far. However, the machinery is now in good working order and approval of loans and checks in payment therefore are arriving daily, and by the end of another week all those who have filed their applications should have received their money.

The Loan Committee states that all applications for loans must be made on or before April 30th, to receive consideration securing a loan.

Do not take chances by longer delay.

1tpd.—file your application now.

PARENTS AND SONS BANQUET.

The Yancey F. F. A. held their annual Parents and Sons banquet on March 22, in the Agriculture building. There were fifty-five in attendance. This was one of the largest banquets ever to be held in Yancey. After the eats, Roland Saathoff, president of the local chapter, took charge of the following program which was rendered:

Future Farmers Creed—Marvin Muennink; Objectives of the Chapter were given by Rubin Faseler; Mr. Roensch, our local adviser, gave some interesting data on the year's projects; Mr. J. B. Rutland, State adviser and assistant supervisor, was the principal speaker of the evening. He gave an outline of the outstanding work done by the Future Farmer organization all over the nation and especially of Texas. Other speakers of the evening were Mrs. Nick Wilson, who spoke in behalf of the mothers, and Mr. Nick Wilson spoke for the men. Mr. E. H. Stendebach, Superintendent of the local school, and Miss Schultz, teacher of Home Economics, concluded our program with interesting talks.

That nothing offers such a big opportunity to please trade and build big volume business as does the right kind of advertising.

The printed page is the proper place for the seller to seek the buyer.

Advertising through the printed page is a progressive, convenient way to sell goods or service.

Truthful advertising proves itself in accomplishments.

Some business men have mistaken ideas about the kind of advertising that is best, while some others don't believe in any kind of advertising.

Some business concerns are failing because they forgot to make the proper appeals to the public through the printed page.

METHODIST CHURCH ANNOUNCEMENTS.

In St. Paul's letter to the Church at Philippi, he urges them to think on the things of the higher life, such as truth, honesty, virtue and the like. He recognizes as did Solomon many centuries before him did that, as a man thinketh in his heart so is he.

It was by the process of thought and meditation that St. Paul's heart was prepared to receive the revelation of Christ as the Lord and saviour of the world. This too led him to recognize himself a debtor to his fellowmen.

So many of us have not come to the awakening that we are also debtors to those about us. This leads us to the announcement of our subject for Sunday morning; the words of St. Paul: "I am debtor." We say we believe in paying our honest debts, do we? Come and see is the invitation. May we not think together on these things? For it is by this process that we are brought into the possession of those fundamental truths that build character.

Worship with us Sunday.

JOHN T. BRISCOE IN RACE FOR LEGISLATURE.

FEAST OF ST. JOSEPH IS OBSERVED HERE.

The St. Joseph's Catholic Church of Devine celebrated the Feast of St. Joseph, their patron saint, Saturday March 19th, with appropriate services in their church in the forenoon, in which several priests from other parts of the county took part. Rev. Nic. Tanascovio, O. M. I. of San Antonio delivered the principal address. Many people were present from LaCoste, Castroville, Hondo and some from San Antonio.

An old fashioned chicken-sausage dinner was served at 11:30 to 1 P. M. and hundreds of people enjoyed the occasion, each contributing 50 cents to help in the church work under the direction of Rev. Leo Goertz, the local pastor. Most of the business people of the town took dinner with the ladies and felt that besides helping in a good cause, they got value for their contribution. Many lingered about the hall until late in the afternoon, playing games and in conversation.

As have had them to grow as much as two feet in height in one year's growth. For twelve years, I have grown them in Paris and had a fair crop each year, although the shrubs were several times killed to the ground in winters. I have perhaps grown more figs in that time than any other one man in this district.

Now in February, is the time for transplanting the sprouts. Figs are what we may call surface rooters, and they need plenty of room for root growth. No one need to expect much results from a plant which has other trees and shrubs growing anywhere within 10 to 20 feet around it.

A large tree of any kind in one's yard will dwarf the growth of any fig bush within 30 or 40 feet of it, so do not expect your fig bush to do you much good without you give it plenty of free soil room for unchecked root spread.

Remember that poor soil is a very poor base for figs, as well as other tree growth. Another important thing to observe is that most people neglect to properly thin out the sprouts at the base of the plant. No fig plant should consist of more than three or four sprouts from the same base.

Some fine fig crops are gotten by confining the growth to just one tree at a place, keeping all sprouts jerked away.

The most common error of most people is the practice of leaving their fig plants to grow at random in a cluster at each center. This is no way to produce fruit.

Fig trees need protection from north winds in winter, and some irrigation in summer, and then a fair crop can be expected every season.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ward are the proud parents of a little baby boy, whose name is Wesley William.

Prof. Stendebach has been enjoying a visit from his brother last week.

We are glad to report all the flu patients recovering. Almost every family had several cases last week.

Mrs. Grace Saathoff left Sunday for San Marcos where she will attend the Teachers College. Miss Saathoff is preparing herself for the teaching profession.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ward and children of San Antonio spent Sunday here with relatives; also Charles Burris and Ed. DuBose.

Mrs. J. D. Baker, Sr., received the sad news that her father, Mr. Hardcastle, had passed away at Black Creek last Friday. We extend our sympathy.

A play was given by the Methodist Missionary Society representing the Zander-Gump wedding. A good many characters from the funny paper were present at the wedding, which afforded much fun.

There have been quite a number of fat cattle sold by our stockmen of late, some to San Antonio and others to local buyers.

Meats can be cured and smoked. Corn and some fruits can be dried.

Judicious planting prolongs the growing season and lessens the time we need to depend upon canned products. Have three or four plantings of lettuce, onions, radishes, carrots, beets, etc. Have asparagus early in the spring and tomatoes late in the fall. Store celery and cabbage and endive for winter greens.

Don't can all the fruit and leave none for eating raw.

Don't use canned products when fresh are in season unless the convenience of their being ready to serve is important.

Make good use of cabbage, apples and oranges and the easily stored products.

Don't buy shipped-in products to can unless you are sure the home-canned is better and cheaper than the commercial-canned product. For example to can pineapple is usually not advisable. To can peaches that have been picked green and shipped long distances gives an expensive and inferior product.

The ideal toward which we are working is a varied, healthful diet for the family. Canning is one of the big factors in securing this, but let's be sure our canning counts for health and efficiency.

EXERCISE JUDGEMENT IN CANNING.

TEXAS AND TEXANS.
By
Will H. Mayes
"All Texans for All Texans!"

This Feature Discontinued.
This column is to be discontinued as a regular feature of this paper several years it has appeared in Texas papers, and the continuance of it by so many publications shows that the public has been interested in the kind of constructive comment that has always characterized it. The reason for its discontinuance is that the writer has accomplished the arduous duties of the executive vice-presidency of the Texas Centennial Committee, which means he is to be the "laboring man", that important committee, a task which will require all his time and energy. He will continue to write constructive news comment for the press of Texas from time to time, most of which will be centered around the activities necessary to holding a Centennial celebration in 1936 commen-orative in magnitude and grandeur with the heroic sacrifices of the builders of Texas and the wonderful development of its first century. In this great work, in which every patriotic Texan should want to participate, the writer hopes to have the cooperation of every Texas newspaper in the interests of the State and in order to see those interests advanced and given widest publicity to the people of the entire Nation and the world.

Centennial Press Resolution.

Practically every Texas press organization has given hearty endorsement to the movement for a Texas Centennial celebration in 1936. Illustrative of the enthusiasm of the press, which after all reflects the feeling of the public, the State Press Association at its last meeting, among other things, said, by unanimous vote: "We hereby pledge the unqualified cooperation of this association in every effort that may be made to present to the people of Texas the aims and purposes of the proposed Centennial celebration to the end that every citizen may be inspired to lend almost support to its success, and thus assist in portraying the past glory of the present development, and the future progress of our great State. There was much more along the same line, but that excerpt shows something of the Texas spirit that has been and will continue to build Texas into the great Empire of which its founders dreamed.

Pat Neff To Baylor.

As has been expected by his in-imate friends ever since the presidency of Baylor University was offered to Ex-Gov. Pat M. Neff, he has accepted the position. He could do nothing else. Pat Neff is a statesman with an intense love for his State and everything Texan, easily tempted to throw himself with all his energy and enthusiasm into every political scramble in which he feels he can serve his beloved State, but with a keen feeling that a country's best interests can best be served by the proper training of its youth.
He believes that the weal of a State depends upon the character of its citizens and that our schools must bear the responsibility for character building. He accepts the responsibility as a call to duty that his conscience will not allow him to shirk.

One Man's Vision.

Nearly everything worth while that is accomplished comes as the result of the vision of one individual. One enthusiast who will not acknowledge defeat, who works only the harder in the face of criticism, who faces discouragement heroically, after a time will draw to his help others who are inspired by his courage, still others follow, and in time the vision, if really a worthy one, will be transformed from a dream into a fact.

This is the history of all progress.
Thousands of instances could be given to support this statement, but this paragraph is inspired just now by the statement that the beauty of San Antonio—city so much admired by every one for its civic beauty—owes that beauty largely to the early efforts of one man, A. F. Wulff, pioneer citizen forgotten by most, who personally changed the leading plazas from bar-ren, rough spots into beautiful parks, and worked away until he created a city-wide love of beauty.

Three Day Jubilee.

Eagle Pass is to have a three-day jubilee, April 7, 8, 9, celebrating the completion of the first unit of its $8,000,000 reservoir and irrigation project. When completed, the irrigation system will cover about 60,000 acres of land as rich as ever was the valley of the Nile. The transformation of the cactus-covered acres into prolific gardens has been a dream of years that will soon become a realization.

Do you know that for more than a year past over a million dollars a month has been spent in the development of water reservoirs and irrigation plants in Texas and that equally large sums are to be spent throughout this year? Travel over Texas next summer and take notice of the great development going on.

Big Texas Resort.

Chicago parties, with faith in Texas, are getting ready to spend $600,- 000 in building a club house near San Benito, which will be part of a $2,- 000,000 resort project on a 700 acre tract of land that contains numerous resorts, lakes and other attractive resort features.

Large Furniture Factory.

After having had a comprehensive survey made to ascertain whether the project would be profitable, the industrial committee of the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce is planning to interest experienced furniture manufacturers in establishing a factory in or near San Antonio large enough to supply the demand for furniture in the Southwestern section of the country. There is no reason why Texas should continue to buy practically all its furniture from Michigan and other distant States.
New Radio Station.

Eagle Pass—or rather the Mexican town of Piedras Negras, across the river—is to have a 50,000 watt radio station that will be built during the summer. The Texas-Mexican border appears to offer exceptional facilities for broadcasting, and the programs rendered by the Mexican station, which are mostly financed by Americans, are up to the standards of the best stations of this country.

Land Deals Increase.

Real estate activities are increasing in many parts of the State. The most noticeable increases are in suburban acreage and in ranch properties. Most of the ranches that are being sold are either to be retained by purchasers for sheep and goats or are for sub-division into small tracts.
The suburban sales generally are to city and town people who are getting away from crowded urban districts to places where they may have their own gardens and fruit, and yet be close enough to carry on business in town.

Building Texas Highways.

Communities from tourists who will be coming to Texas for the Centennial celebration of 1936, should not delay the building of highways of a kind to invite travel. Wherever the Centennial may be held, practically every out-of-State visitor, and many from within Texas, will want to see all Texas that has attractions to offer, and attractiveness will be gauged by access by roadways and things of historic, educational or scenic interest.
Do not delay getting ready for 1936.
Four years is a short time in which to bring about civic improvements.

Putting Them To Work.

It is surprising how many newspaper men are being put to work on public jobs—or a non-paying kind, of course. Editor Schofield, as Mayor of Lockhart, has almost transformed the appearance of that town.
Billy Smith of the San Saba Star, and E. M. Pharr of the Lampasas Record, have just been made presidents of their chambers of commerce. But why try to name them? In Texas, the names of Texas editors doing worthwhile public jobs are legion, and they are doing them as well as if they were being paid.

Newspaper Changes.

The editor of the Mission Enterprise says that in his three years residence in the Rio Grande Valley all but three of the newspapers of that section have changed editors, most of the editors getting positions that are better. The towns in the three counties of the Valley are only a few miles apart, and if an editor gets tired of one place it is easy to walk to another town and get another job.

Made specially for BABIES and CHILDREN

Physicians tell us that one condition is nearly always present when a child has a digestive upset, a starting cold or other little ailment. Constipation. The first step towards relief is to rid the body of impure wastes.
And for this nothing is better than genuine Castoria! Castoria is a pure vegetable preparation made specially for babies and children. This means it is mild and gentle; that it contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics. Yet it always gets results! You never have to coax children to take Castoria.
Real Castoria always bears the name:

CASTORIA
CHILDREN'S CRY FOR IT

MARK TWAIN'S PUZZLE.

I married a widow with a grown daughter. My father fell in love with my step-daughter and married her—thus becoming my son-in-law—and my step-daughter became my mother because she was my father's wife.

My wife gave birth to a son, which was, of course, my father's brother in-law and my uncle for he was the brother of my step-mother.

My father's wife became the mother of a son. He was, of course, my brother and also my grandchild for he was the son of my daughter.

Accordingly, my wife was my grandmother because she was my mother's mother—I was my wife's husband and grandchild at the same time—and as the husband of a person's grandmother is his grandfather.

I AM MY OWN GRANDFATHER!

After Easter, what? Empty churches, forgotten promises, the end of good beginnings, the beginning of a bad ending? The death of the Living Christ in your life? The burial of faith and hope and love in you? Will that be the result?

After Easter, what? Full churches, fulfilled promises to God, the beginning of a new life? The resurrection of faith, stronger than before, of hope undying, of love that fulfills the Law? We hope this is the result.

It all depends upon you! It all depends upon whether or not you want this Resurrected Savior to come ever closer to your life with His Eternal Blessings. It all depends upon your coming closer to Him.

graphs tell just a little of the history and aims of the school:

From a village of about 2,500 at the time of Lutheran College's relocation, Seguin has grown to be a little city of about 8,000 inhabitants.
It is fringed by the picturesque Guadalupe River and lies in the midst of one of the most fertile agricultural sections of the Lone Star State. It is unusually well served by railway and interurban systems due to the fact that it is located on the trunk lines running between San Antonio and Houston. The college campus is situated on the western outskirts of the city of Seguin and comprises 27 acres. It is one of the choice sites of the city and is rapidly being converted into the beauty spot of Guadalupe County. A newly paved road leads to the heart of the city.

Since the aim of Lutheran College is to mold Christian character and prepare for efficient service in home, state, and church, a distinctly religious atmosphere, that is definite and wholesome, prevails. Daily devotions are held each morning and evening.
Speakers of prominence frequently address the student body during the Thursday convocations. The Pro-seminary Club conducts a bi-weekly forum for the discussion of current religious issues and exerts an influence for a higher standard of Christian morality. The courses of study on the Bible offered in both College and Academy are designed to meet the special needs of young people.
The college chorus devotes a major portion of the time to the study of sacred music and has set a high standard of perfection. Lutheran students find a hearty welcome at Emanuel Lutheran Church in Seguin and are always in evidence at divine worship, in the Bible classes, and other church functions. Students of other denominations will find the same warm welcome at their respective churches in the city of Seguin, where all the leading denominations are represented.

Watch for the Hook

Some smooth, slick talking salesman may Come talking gilt-edged stock some day,
But you had better not crack down
Till you have all about it found;
For stock in many a quick paying scheme
Is not what it at first might seem
And no matter how the bait may look
It pays to watch out for the hook.
The Hondo State Bank will help you find
The worth of stock of every kind.

FOR THE BEEKEEPER.

The bee-fever is a fussy thing," says H. D. Murry, and he should know for he runs a school for beginners in Beekeeping. He may not make any money out of it, but bees are an interesting study and their honey is good and healthful.

The discussion about "which is the best honey" is now again in full blast. Emmett Baxter of Philadelphia, Pa., lauds the honey from the swamps as being richer in sodium-chlorine and the life-giving ferments glucose and invertase, while friend Bohne of Luling, La., praised to the sky his dark honey, because it is the honey he gets. But here we know that Hunjilla honey is the kind that sells.

Mr. Sturdevant of Nebraska tells us to make honey jelly as follows: 1 part water, 3 ounces pectin and 3 1/2 pounds of honey. Although he does not say so, I am of the opinion that the mixture has to be boiled slowly until same jellies. It is said that this process does not change the flavor of the honey but takes away the stickiness of the honey that is objectionable to some people.

M. C. Engle of Herradura, Cuba, says he never knew a habitual user of honey to have appendicitis. He tried honey on people with bad teeth. By steady use of honey, their teeth quit bothering them and seem not to continue decaying. Do you know of a baldhead where the person ate a little honey at each meal from childhood up?

Leo Haughey tells us that strong heartsease honey is the best lure for raccoons if said honey is put on or into traps for said raccoons. I know that skunks, both human and of the animal kingdom, are hard after honey. Strong rat-traps and a few real bees in the apiary might land both kinds.

Eighteen hundred 4-H Club girls and 200 4-H Club leaders studied the honey bees and their honey, under the direction of State Apriary Inspector F. B. Paddock and Lula Treagren, State Nutrition Specialist and State 4-H Club Agent, up in the State of Iowa. This is a move in the right direction, and will tend to popularize the use of honey.

John Conner of New Jersey tells us in the Beekeeper's Item that a spoonful of honey dissolved in hot milk and drunk just before retiring is very beneficial and sleep promoting. It is cheap, easy to try, and will not make out of you a drug user as other sleep potions are apt to do.

An Arizona apriary thief was given a six months suspended sentence and was ordered by the court to haul the bees back from where he took them. Justice! thou art a wonderful bird! Only lately, it appears, buzzards had been roosting above you, judging from the looks of your feathers.

Agaritas, or as some call it agheritas, have started blooming. So have peach and plum orchards. Consequently bees that have an abundance of honey stored in their hives are busy rearing brood and we may expect early swarming for which the bee-men should be in readiness with a sufficient supply of new or repaired hives.

Our beloved pursuit is just as enticing and invigorating as it ever was. Although it will not be a bonanza or a get-rich-quick scheme as it ever was, and it should sell at 75 cents per 10-lb can, including the can, or at $3.75 for a 60-pound can F. O. B. Bee-keeper's Station.

The Editor of Beekeeper's Item, P. O. Box 838, San Antonio, Texas, is inquisitive and wishes to know who eats honey. Write him, 1st. how many in your family; 2nd. how many eat honey; 3rd. how many pounds of honey are used on your table through the year. Eat thou honey! And persuade others to do so also and you may soon be surprised to find how easy it is to dispose of honey at a reasonable price.

This being such a nice damp February, predicts a rainy, slushy March; unless it should happen to be bone-dry. Therefore it behoves the beekeeper to get things in readiness for the honey crop, when it does come. If you are a frame-wiring crank, do it now, while time is cheap. Repair your hives, supers, frames, and if you can afford it have your hives nicely painted.

John Swaneberg, Parkers Prairie, Minn., says: "There are so many beekeepers who do not contribute to the American Honey Institute." I am just wondering if they could tell a wax-moth from a cut-worm. And the old saying, "Those who abide in domestic crystalized domiciles must refrain from hurling geological specimens," does not apply to him as he has contributed his one dollar per ton of his honey. You are a real good boy, John.

Elton Cornelius of Michigan says that their yearly pest is the price cutter, that their honey had been selling at 18 cents per pound for the comb honey and 12 cents for the extracted and then the price cutter filled up all the dealers at 12 cents for the comb honey and 7 cents for the extracted. Any such prices would put Medina County, Texas, beemen in the millionaire class, hobnobbing with nobility and making themselves obnoxious to everybody else.

Geo. Bohne of Luling, La., calls me to task for selling honey in 60-lb cans to consumers in order to give every member of the family a helping, and says that it does not hold out in Louisiana, where people who buy a 10-pound can of honey have a 1-2 gallon left over the following year. They certainly are to be pitied for buying such a poor article of bee honey. Why! most of my good customers send in repeat orders in 60-pound cans from one to four times each.

While visiting a neighbor lately, I noticed that in cutting a leg of veal up for chili con carne he found about a dozen small shot in said meat. Now that is quite natural for legs of calves that often get into places where their presence is uncalled for. But why let two-legged calves poison our bees, or chickens, or monkey about your premises at night? Have you no gun, friend? Or perhaps are you a public spirited, whole-souled EXCESS acid is the common cause of indigestion. It results in pain and sourness about two hours after eating. The quick corrective is an alkali which neutralizes acid. The best corrective is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia neutralizes instantly many times its volume in acid. Harmless, and tasteless, and yet its action is quick. You will never rely on crude methods, once you learn how quickly this method acts. Be sure to get the genuine.

CASTROVILLE, TEXAS, TUESDAY, MARCH 29, 1932

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Meny and family of San Antonio visited the Montel of Hondo.

TO DESCENDANTS OF "CASTRO'S COLONISTS."

The Castro Colony Historical Society wishes to procure pictures, old portraits, tintypes or paintings of any of the old colonists, books or literature used to obtain emigrants in 1842 to 1847 in France and Germany by Henry Castro and his agents, Louis Huth, and others. We wish to make photostat copies of same, and the originals will be returned. Write H. E. Haass, Historian, at Hondo, Texas, what you have and he will write you more fully.

Adopted at meeting of Board of Directors, Sunday, March 6th, 1932.

CASTROVILLE CHURCH NEWS.

"Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection, and the life: He that believeth in me though he were dead, yet shall he live: and whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die." John 11, 25 and 26.

Zion Lutheran Sunday school will begin from now on at 9 o'clock A. M. This will be the time of beginning this Sunday school until next Fall.

Next Sunday morning divine service in the English language will be held in Zion Lutheran church at 10 o'clock. At 8 o'clock at night a lecture of great interest will be delivered in the German language by the pastor.

The subject of this lecture will be Paul Gerhardt, the famous composer of church hymns. In many circles Paul Gerhardt is considered to be one of the greatest, if not the greatest churchman and poet since the days of the Reformation. A cordial invitation to come and bring with you your friends and neighbors is extended to all.

Good Friday services, as well as the Easter day service at Zion Lutheran church were largely attended, as were also the Holy Communion celebrations. A beautiful new Communion set was donated by one of the church members and added much to the manifested interest. Sunday night a fine program of songs and recitations, supplemented by a fine and very appropriate address by Mr. Paul Geiger, a student of the Seguin pro-seminary was rendered to a large and appreciative audience. This program, like similar programs on former occasions, shows what young people are able to do if they earnestly try.

Hints for Homemakers By Jane Rogers

RUBBING a teaspoonful of sugar along with salt and pepper into a steak will improve the flavor. The sugar carmelizes on the outside holding in the juices which gives the meat added nutritional value.

When bottle caps, fountain pen tops etc., stick try twisting a rubber band tightly around the part to be unscrewed. The rubber will not slide and you can get a good grip on the part to be unscrewed.

FOR FROSTY DAYS

FOR frosty days — fritters! Hot, steaming fritters with a succulent sauce! Doesn't the idea appeal to you? Here are two recipes for fritters containing a fruit which adds to the ease of their digestion, but their main recommendation is simply that they taste mighty good.

To make the first, which serves eight, beat two eggs thoroughly, then add one-fourth cup milk. Sift together one-fourth teaspoon salt, one cup flour and one teaspoon baking powder, and add to first mixture with the grated rind of one lemon. Drain thoroughly the slices from a No. 2½ can of Hawaiian pineapple, dip them in the batter and fry in deep fat. Drain on brown paper, sprinkle with confectioner's sugar and garnish with wedges of orange. Serve with the following sauce:

Mix one teaspoon cornstarch, two tablespoons sugar, a few grains of cinnamon and a few gratings lemon rind, and add to the syrup from the can of pineapple. Cook five minutes.

This Contains Rice

To make the second, beat three egg yolks well, then add one-half cup boiled rice and three-fourths cup milk. Sift together one and one-half cups flour, one and one-half teaspoons baking powder and a few grains of salt, and add. Drain the contents of an 8-ounce can of Hawaiian pineapple tidbits, and add. Fold in three stiffly beaten egg whites. Drop by spoonfuls into hot deep fat, and fry golden brown. Serve with maple syrup or a sauce made by thickening the pineapple syrup slightly with cornstarch or flour. Makes twenty-four fritters.

Bordeaux mixtures, the standard garden fungicide, can be made according to the following formula and directions: Bluestone (copper sulphate) 4 pounds; quicklime (burnt or stone lime) 5 pounds; water 50 gallons. By using one pound of bluestone and lime and 10 gallons of water smaller amounts of about the same strength can be made. Dissolve the bluestone in a few gallons of water by suspending near the top of the water in a gunny sack. This solution will eat through iron or tin and should be made in wooden or earthen containers.

Slake the lime in another container and bring each up to 25 gallons for the full formula or five gallons for the smaller amounts. These are stock solutions and equal amounts of each should be mixed together for using. As soon as mixed the material should be used. Stock solutions will keep indefinitely.

Bordeaux dust gives very satisfactory results and there are several forms on the market.

Arsenate of lead is the most common stomach poison and the powdered form is more convenient to use. It can be mixed with Bordeaux.

Paris green has been a long-used and very effective stomach poison.

Mercuric chloride is poisonous and should be handled with caution. It is purchased in the form of tablets. By dissolving two large tablets in a quart of water a strength of 1 to 1,000 is obtained. This strength is recommended for treating small seed. For cucumber, melon, cabbage, etc., soak the seed three to five minutes and then rinse in clean water. For larger quantities, to treat seed potatoes, use 4 ounces to 30 gallons of water and soak the potatoes for 1½ hours. Then remove the seed and dry it. This material must be kept in wooden, glass, or earthen containers and always plainly marked "POISON".

Formaldehyde, while very irritating to the eyes and drying to the skin, is not a poison. It is a clear solution of formaldehyde gas in water and used for treating seeds. Use at the rate of one teaspoonful to a pint, one ounce to two gallons, or one pint to 30 gallons.

"Black Leaf 40" or nicotine sulphate
